VidaBox LLC Debuts New "SLIM" Media Center Model

GARDEN CITY, NY – July 21 - VidaBox™, a systems integrator, announced today the launch of a new media center system called the SLIM™. Starting at $2499, it is one of the most compact and fully featured media center systems available on the market today.

"The VidaBox™ SLIM™ is our flagship media center system," says Steven Cheung, a founder of VidaBox. "It is a truly unique HTPC (home theater PC) in that it provides virtually all the features of much larger systems while being only the size of a DVD player making it a perfect fit for homes with limited space."

The SLIM™ features 500GB of VidaSafe™ protected storage standard with up to an optional 1.5TB (1,500 GB) of protected storage making it the smallest protected 1.5TB system available anywhere. VidaSafe™ technology allows the system to keep operating in its normal capacity with all of its data intact, even when one of its hard drives has failed.

Steven further explains, "If you think about it, most of the stuff that people store on conventional media centers are irreplaceable - music files, family videos, digital photos. Most people don't have the time or equipment to do regular backups. What happens if a hard drive fails? You'd lose everything! That's why we make VidaSafe™ standard on virtually all of our models. Currently, similar technology is available, but only in systems that cost significantly more. The SLIM™ is the first media center that offers VidaSafe™ or similar technology starting at the mid-$2000 price range in a quiet, compact design."

As with all VidaBox™ systems, the SLIM™ is fully configured and ready to use 'out-of-the-box.' The SLIM™ also features a variety of video and audio connections including VGA, component, S-video, SPDIF audio, and analog audio outputs for easy high quality connectivity to existing home theater systems. The SLIM™ is available in a brushed aluminum finish or anodized black.
